More Night Car Service Is Offered

Hourly car service on the Pacific Electric all through the evening and as late as 12:30 a. m., is proposed by railway officials for the Sierra Madre district. The proposition hinges on acceptance of shuttle car service between Sierra Madre and San Marino Junction. This would involve a change of cars at San Marino going in either direction.

J. A. Birmingham, travelling passenger agent for the Pacific Electric spent Thursday in Sierra Madre interviewing Chamber of Commerce officials on the subject, the matter having been brought to a head by recent correspondence originating with the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Birmingham says the company submits the schedule for the consideration of patrons of the line. A little later a referendum vote will be taken on the question.

Exact connections at San Marino are promised by railroad officials. The schedule shows a total of about 50 minutes required for the trip, being practically the same as that required for direct through service. The car leaving Los Angeles at 6:05 p. m., and the one leaving Sierra Madre at 6:10 p. m., would be the last through cars. After that the schedule would be as follows:

Leave	Leave
L. A.	S. M.
7:00	7:06
8:00	8:00
9:00	9:00
10:00	10:00
11:25	11:35

This proposed schedule provides six cars leaving Los Angeles and five leaving Sierra Madre as against three each way on the present schedule. In addition to giving more frequent service, the last car each way would be a little later.

For passengers to and from Pasadena the change would be vast improvement. No additional change of cars would be necessary and hourly service all through the evening would be a great advantage.

Expressions of opinion are invited by the railway officials and Chamber of Commerce, as the matter will be decided on the showing of preference of those interested.

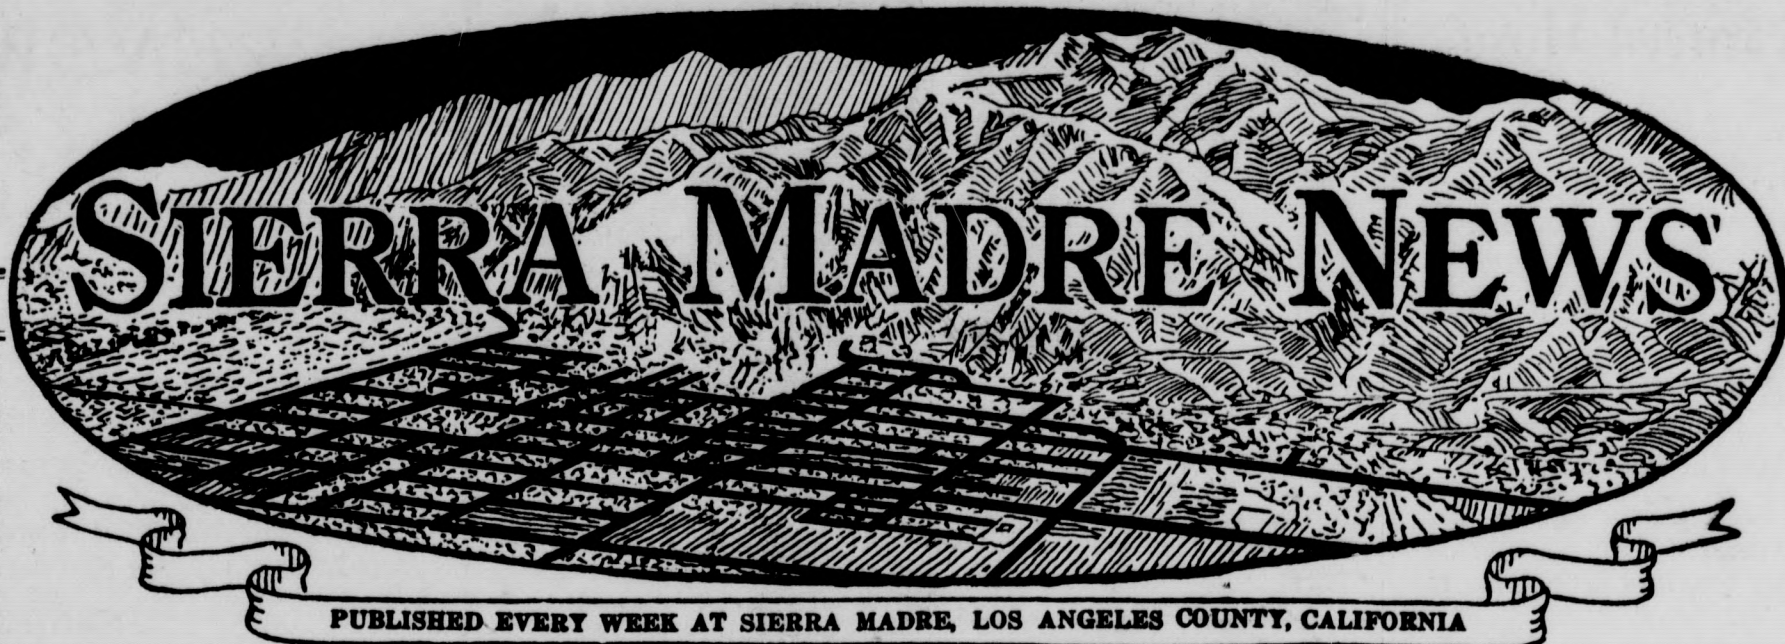

SHEARER TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Contractor Accused of Fraud in Sale of Securities in State of Michigan

O. M. Shearer, contractor who has erected a number of store buildings in Sierra Madre recently, was arrested last Saturday by Constable Sosey of Pasadena on a warrant from Michigan charging him with selling corporation securities in violation of the laws of that state. He is in the county jail awaiting the outcome of extradition proceedings.

Shearer had spent several months in Sierra Madre and impressed everyone with his affable manner and appearance of an industrious worker. Other contractors and workmen employed by him report that there was nothing in his treatment of them to indicate that he was anything but square and honest. They were greatly surprised to learn of his arrest and the nature of the charges against him.

Charles M. Bentla of 202 W. Montecito, a former business associate of Shearer's, had had some difficulties with him. They formerly resided in the same town in Michigan. It is reported the charges against Shearer concern the sale of alleged worthless oil stock.

Bought Gun For Suicide in Mountains

Despondent over business troubles, C. M. Milnor of Los Angeles decided to end his life by shooting. His body was found last Saturday morning about ten o'clock by R. C. Kite, a relative of J. W. Strickland who was visiting in Sierra Madre and had gone with his wife to take a stroll up the Mount Wilson Trail.

Milnor had evidently shot himself some time Saturday morning or late on Friday. A sales slip showed that he had purchased the revolver on Friday, and it was evident that he came to Sierra Madre for the purpose of killing himself. He had gone up the trail to the red clay flats, and taken a little side path to a point about 100 feet from the trail where he lay down and fired the fatal shot.

Upon notification of city hall officials by Messrs Kite and Strickland, arrangements were made to have the body brought down and taken to Los Angeles. Marshall Udell went to the city to investigate the circumstances. He found Milnor left a wife and daughter, and that he had been dejected over business deals which had not gone through as expected. It was evident that he had bought the gun soon after hearing that an important real estate sale had fallen through. Milnor was about 48 years old and formerly lived in Redondo Beach.

MONROVIA IS GAY FOR HER BIRTHDAY

Big Celebration Arranged for City's Annual Celebration to be Held Tomorrow

Monrovia is gay with bunting. Saturday is Monrovia Day, when the Foothill Fiesta will be staged for ten thousand Southern Californians in celebration of the city's thirty-seventh birthday anniversary.

Entries in the civic division of the great morning floral parade have been promised from practically every municipality of the San Gabriel and San Fernando valleys, thus assuring a spectacular pageant. The parade will begin at 10 o'clock.

Visitors will be entertained at dinner at the Spanish barbecue, free for all who attend the rodeo in the afternoon. The wild west thrillers under direction of Bob Anderson, Universal film veteran, begin promptly at 1:30. The grand finale will be the queen's ball, to be opened at 8 p. m. by Queen Mary McCune and her four beautiful maids of honor.

W. J. SCHWOERER WORKS WITH N. B. JENSEN

William J. Schwoerer, an electrical engineer recently associated with the Edison Company, has come to Sierra Madre to be associated with Norman B. Jensen in the electrical contracting business. Both were engaged on the Big Creek construction project.

Mr. Schwoerer assisted in installing the big radio station at Big Creek by which the large corps of men isolated in the mountains during the winter months were able to keep in touch with the outside world regardless of weather. Mr. Schwoerer is a specialist in radio work and expects to give a great deal of attention to such matters. He received his technical training at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Mayor Robert Mitchell expects to leave on Saturday, May 27 for Denver, where he has been called on matters of business. He expects to be absent till about the middle of June.

Flintham Talks on Conservation

County Forester is Speaker Before Men's Club at Congregational Church in Sierra Madre

Stuart J. Flintham, county forester, gave an interesting talk before the Men's Community Club in the Congregational Church last night. His plea for aroused public interest on the national and local forestry problems was one deserving the attention of every citizen of the country.

Making no pretense as an orator, Mr. Flintham told interestingly of the development of the profession of forestry and what it aims to accomplish in providing for future needs of the country in lumber and in soil control and water supply. He also sketched briefly the history of forests which once covered the mountains and hills of Southern California as shown by many remaining evidences. How these were destroyed and some of the resulting effects were graphically told.

Mr. Flintham has carried the nursery experiments of the county far enough to prove that forest trees can be successfully propagated for transplanting to the mountains. He hopes the time will come when public sentiment will impel the county supervisors to adopt a policy with adequate support to carry the work on long enough to produce real results in reforesting areas now practically bare.

Otto Kittelson played a delightful clarinet solo, accompanied by Donald Parker. President Anderson said the club members had been invited to visit Pomona College next Monday afternoon and evening. He hoped several auto loads might drive over in the afternoon, spend an hour or two looking about the campus, take dinner at the college commons, and attend a recital in Bridges Hall in the evening.

DIVIDENDS ON EDISON STOCK

Remarkable Distribution of the Securities of This Big Corporation

Over five hundred sixty-seven thousand dollars in dividend checks were mailed to stockholders in the Southern California Edison Company last Monday, May 15, from the general office in Los Angeles. These checks represented the forty-ninth regular quarterly dividend on the common stock of the company. A large number of stockholders in Sierra Madre and vicinity are now receiving the Edison Company dividend checks.

Commenting on this distribution of dividend checks, Mr. A. N. Kemp, vice-president in charge of finance said, "We are proud of our record of thirteen years of uninterrupted dividends to our shareholders. The activities of this company during the past year in interesting our people in becoming stockholders indicate that of all the public service corporations in the country, the Southern California Edison Company is taking the lead in associating its consumers as partners in its organization which supplies them with their electric requirements."

"We have twenty-four thousand consumer stockholders in our twenty-eight districts, in addition to approximately forty-one hundred employee stockholders, bringing the total stockholders residing in the territory served to 28,165."

Weekly Lunch for the C. of C.

Tuesday Noon Gatherings Prove Very Popular With the Business Men of the City

Chamber of Commerce luncheons will be held every Tuesday noon at the Venture Inn, instead of bi-weekly as has been the custom in the past. The matter was decided by those present last Tuesday noon, the affirmative vote being unanimous.

It was the feeling of those present that the luncheons afford an excellent clearing house for ideas pertaining to Chamber of Commerce and other civic affairs. Attendance is not limited to members and other citizens will be welcome. Inasmuch as the recent post card referendum did not show a sufficient interest in regular forum meetings to justify holding them monthly, it was thought the weekly luncheons with occasional forum meetings for the discussion of specific subjects which may arise from time to time would be the best system to follow.

New Secretary Introduced

President Hawks introduced Major C. S. Floyd, selected by the directors to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of DeWitt Jones some weeks ago. Major Floyd responded briefly saying what he lacked in Chamber of Commerce experience he hoped to have made up by co-operation of members. Coming here over a year ago, Major Floyd, being delighted with Sierra Madre, its climate and location, and having faith in its future decided to remain permanently.

Major Floyd graduated from the United States Military Academy, at West Point, N. Y. in 1911. From that date up to his retirement from active service in 1920, served in the regular army in California, along the Mexican border, and in the East, also in Alaska and Mexico. During the war Major Floyd held the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel of Infantry. He was stationed at West Point, an instructor, and at various camps in the Middle West and South. After the war Major Floyd was in charge of the North Carolina U. S. Army Recruiting district where he gained valuable experience in advertising and publicity lines.

SHOCKED TO SEE HERB IN COURT

Friends of Bank Official Jarred by Sight of Him Before The Judge

Some of Herbert Ingraham's friends had a rude shock on Tuesday as they passed the city hall. The sight which greeted their eyes was Judge Forman's court in session, with Herbert in the chair close beside Marshall Udell.

A couple of lawyers were present and it looked suspiciously as if the popular bank teller might be in custody. Memories of Los Angeles bank employees who have recently been introduced to the newspaper columns by the police officials fitted across their minds.

Passing on into the bank next door, one or two patrons solicitously inquired if the young man customarily at the teller's window were sick—or on a vacation. Imagine their relief to be informed that he was only absent for a few minutes, having been called to court as a WITNESS to identify a check which had passed through his hands in the ordinary course of business. It had happened that the defendant in the case was out of sight in the corner of the court room.

The case was one against a Mrs. Stewart of Los Angeles, accused of issuing a check on a Los Angeles bank in which she had no funds and fraudulently obtaining money on it by means of the endorsement of A. T. Gay. The case was continued for lack of witnesses necessary to establish the complete history of the transaction in Los Angeles banks.

REGULAR FILM SHOWS

WILL BEGIN JUNE 2

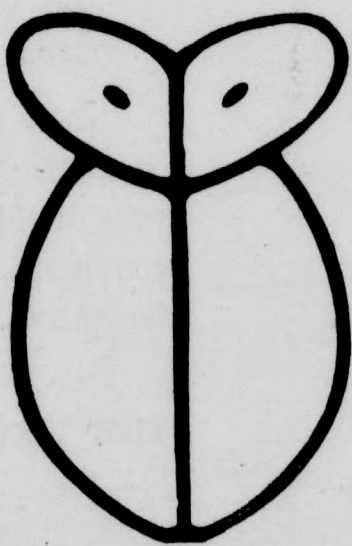

Movie fans will welcome the news that the Christian Endeavor of the Congregational Church is making arrangements for a series of three moving picture shows to be given at intervals of two weeks, beginning June 2. The dates of the three shows will be June 2, June 16 and June 30. A committee went to Los Angeles this morning to select suitable films for the three shows.

The young people of the Congregational Church have been giving moving picture shows at more or less regular intervals for some time and have gained a reputation for showing good wholesome pictures, full of life and fun, with the entertainment feature predominating above any attempt at moralizing or preaching. It is the plan of the young people to take care of the demand for pictures in Sierra Madre as far as possible and at the same time raise funds for various purposes.

There will be no charges at the door for the coming shows, but a collection will be taken, where the patrons may give as much as they care to. The films to be shown will be of the class shown in the best houses and for which exhibitors usually charge a minimum of 35 cents.

The name of the first film, which will be shown on Friday, June 2, will be announced next week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hull and family, accompanied by Richard Hawks, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Hull's brother, M. W. Hull of Los Angeles.

RADIO

PROGRESS OF RADIO THROUGH THE YEARS

Wireless Research Began Long Ago, But Development Has Been Swift Lately.

Wireless research started many years ago, as far back even as 1827. Even the radio telephone is not a recent perfection; rather it is that introduction to the layman of the human voice and music has suddenly popularized something that wireless men had thought a pastime or amusement. Here is the chronological record of wireless:

1827—It was found that the magnetic discharge from a leyden jar would magnetize a steel needle.

1831—Electro-magnetic induction was discovered between two entirely separate circuits by Michael Faraday.

1837—Cooke and Wheatstone of London, England, and Morse of the United States take out first patent for electric telegraph.

1838—K. A. Steinhell of Munich suggested that a system of wireless telegraphy could be established after his discovery of the use of the earth return.

1840—Joseph Henry (U. S. A.) produced the first high-frequency electric oscillations, and stated that the condenser discharge is oscillatory.

1842—Wireless experiments were made by S. F. B. Morse by electric conduction through water across Washington canal and across wide rivers.

1843—A wireless system for transatlantic communication was suggested.

1845—Water was used as a conducting medium in wireless experiments across a wide river.

1849—Intelligible signals were actually sent across a river 4,500 feet wide in India, but the cost was found prohibitive for commercial use.

1867—The electric waves that are now utilized in wireless telegraphy and telephony were predicted in an distance of 60 miles by radio signals.

1901—Radio communication started with five islands in the Hawaiian group. The first British ship is fitted with the wireless telegraph.

1902—Radiograph signals received aboard vessel at sea at 1,500 statute miles. Signals received from a distance of 2,000 miles.

1903—King Edward receives a radio message from President Roosevelt. High-power stations were ordered by the Italian government. First transatlantic radio message sent. Telegraphic news service for ships at sea is started. Marconi knighted in Russia.

1904—The first press message was sent across the sea.

1905—Patent suit started in New York between the Marconi and De Forest company.

Patent for horizontal directional aerial is taken out. This was a great step forward in long-distance work.

1906—International conference is held in Berlin, at which most of the countries of the world are represented.

1907—The use of steel disks for producing notes were successfully tested.

Radio stations in Ireland and Nova Scotia were opened for limited public service.

1908—Radio stations opened for unlimited public service between Great Britain and Canada.

1909—Steamship in collision with another off the coast of Florida succeeds in calling assistance by radio.

1910—Marconi receives messages 6,700 miles while on board ship going to South America.

Spanish radio company formed.

1911—Canadian government leased radio stations for 20 years.

1912—Radio distress signals from the Titanic bring assistance and save lives of 700 passengers.

1913—Tests were made between the Eiffel tower in France and the station at Washington. During the trip into Central Asia an explorer received his longitude and time signals from a distant radio station.

1914—Marconi and radio officials start test of wireless telephone between vessels of the Italian fleet. The test was continued between vessels on the high seas and voices were heard with clarity at a distance of 44 miles. One day radio telephone communication was kept up constantly for 12 hours. Great Britain declared war address before the Royal Society in London, England.

Elizabeth A. Bergner, Radio Instructor in Lane Technical High School, Chicago, and Her Class.

1880—The sending of an electric current through earth was systematically studied by John Trowbridge of Harvard. It was found that signaling might be carried on over large distances between places not connected by wires.

1885—It was found that telephonic speech could be conveyed by induction over a space of quarter mile. This experiment took place in England.

1889—Electric waves were suggested as being particularly suitable for the sending of signals through fogs.

1892—An instrument for the detection of electro-magnetic waves was discovered which was given the name of a "coherer."

1894—A scientist of Berlin signaled through three miles of water.

1895—High frequency waves excite curiosity of Senator Marconi.

1896—First patent for practical wireless transmitting system is taken out in London by Marconi. Afterward, successful signaling was carried out over distances as great as one and one-quarter miles. Sir William Preece of the British postoffice system interested his cohorts in Marconi's wireless experiments.

1897—Marconi establishes communication between points four miles distant. Balloons were used to suspend antennae.

Marconi demonstrates his wireless system before the king of Italy, communicating with two Italian warships nine miles distant.

The first Marconi station is erected on the Isle of Wight and experiments conducted over a distance of 14 miles.

Near the end of the year the first floating wireless station was successfully operated.

1898—The first paid marconigram was sent from the Isle of Wight station.

1899—Reports made on lighthouse accident by radio. First French gunboat is fitted with radio apparatus. In Vienna communication between two balloons is established. New York Herald receives radio report of international yacht races. The British war office introduces Marconi apparatus into the South African battlefields.

1900—German vessel communicates a upon Germany August 4 and all private radio telegraphy and telephony suspended.

1915—Radio communication between America and Japan is completed. The stations were located at San Francisco and Tokyo with a relay station at Honolulu.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company succeeded in radio telephoning from Arlington station at Washington to Hawaii, a distance of nearly 5,000 miles.

Secretary Daniels of the United States navy transmitted telephonic messages from Washington to the Brooklyn navy yards.

1916—President Wilson and the minkado of Japan exchange messages over the new transpacific radio service, which is formally opened.

1917—Senator Marconi visits the United States and aids greatly in recruiting for radio operators for the United States army.

1918—Wireless telephony progressed rapidly, being used to a great extent in the equipment of airplanes.

Several new long range stations were erected in the United States, it being claimed for one built at Annapolis, Md., that it was capable of communication at 4,000 miles. The United States government also opened a high-power station at Bordeaux.

In September of this year radio signals sent from a point 12,000 miles away were received in Sydney, Australia.

1919—With the exception of the three transatlantic flights—that of the U. S. NC-4, and the British flights of Alcock and Brown and the dirigible R-34, in which radio communication played an important part in keeping the ships of the air on their courses—no very great progress was made in radio telephony, although radio telephony was being pushed along quietly.

Restrictions upon amateur receiving and sending were lifted by the American government.

1920—This was the year of the radio telephone, more attention probably being paid to this branch of radio than to its older brother, telegraphy. Several broadcasting stations were opened.

1921—This year was another radio telephonic year. It was marked by the opening of numerous broadcasting stations.

NEW ADVERTISING SERVICE

The News has just completed arrangements with the Bonnet-Brown Company of Chicago for an advertising service that will do much to increase the artistic appearance of this paper. And, what is of far greater moment, add to its pulling power as an advertising medium.

The Bonnet-Brown Company has long held an enviable position among the larger advertising firms of the country because of its expert work along advertising and illustrating lines in daily and magazine publications. They have now perfected a plan whereby the advantages of this service are extended to newspapers.

The effect of this plan is to add to The News force a corps of artists, expert advertising men and copy writers, the output of whose talent will be available at all times to our merchants and advertisers.

High class illustrations and effective trade arguments which have been used by the best business men of the country are a part of the service now at your command.

A brief inspection of the many advantages offered you by this advertising and cut service will quickly convince you that no single step the News has ever taken will prove more effective in advancing the standard of our paper.

We will be glad to show this new service to you at your convenience.

It has been the ambition of the editor and the publishers to make the News one of the best papers in this vicinity, and we believe that no greater progressive step has ever been taken than the addition of this service for your use.

Small Birds Form Great Colony.

Extraordinary methods are adopted by the little society birds of South Africa in building their nests. The birds are no bigger than a canary, and each pair builds a mud nest of diminutive size. But thousands of them nest in the same tree, and each year a new nest is built, until the branches are covered. Eventually the weight of the nest becomes too great for the tree, and the colony falls; or all available space is occupied and a new colony is started on a tree that is situated nearby.

Scriptural Comfort.

A dear old lady recently declared that if it wasn't for a certain passage of Scripture she'd never have been able to endure her trials and tribulations. She didn't quite know where in the Bible the passage was located, but what it said was, "Grit and bear it."—Boston Transcript.

Babylon, the Great Test.

'Tis an inestimable hint that I owe to a few persons of fine manners that they make behavior the very first sign of force—behavior, and not performance, or talent, or much less, wealth. —Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Good Location for a Light.

There are two lights which seem almost necessary in the average kitchen. One is between the windows over the kitchen sink and the other is just inside the hood over the stove so that the light is thrown directly on the top of the stove. If these two lights are properly placed no other light is absolutely needed.

Each One Has His Work.

Men are not alike and cannot be made so. Probably nothing worth while would be accomplished if they could be, while possibly much might be lost to the world. Every man has his peculiar work to do and should do it the best he can.—Grit.

To Tell Cow's Age.

It is more difficult to determine the age of a cow than of a horse, say the livestock men at the State College at Ithaca, N. Y. They agree that some estimate of a cow's age may be made from her teeth and horns. The number of "annual rings" on the horns, plus two, for example, usually gives the animal's age, but remembering that the pairs of permanent teeth come nine months apart will help to verify it.

Blind Philippine War Veteran Announces Candidacy from Ninth District

Jesse R. Oastler of 265 Mariposa avenue, has announced his candidacy for Congress from the Ninth District to succeed Walter F. Lineberger of Long Beach. He will seek the Republican nomination at the August primaries, he says.

Service men of all wars will receive special attention in Mr. Oastler's platform. First public statement of Mr. Oastler's intention appeared in Thursday's Examiner as follows:

Although totally blind, Jesse R. Oastler of Sierra Madre will be a candidate for Congress from the ninth district at the August primaries, to succeed Walter Lineberger, he announced last night.

Oastler is a veteran of the Spanish-American war. He gave his sight to his country during the Philippine campaign. Now he seeks to again serve, in a law making capacity, the nation for which he offered his all and part was taken from him.

He is strongly in favor of compensation to wounded veterans of the late war, he said, and will not take office bereft of experience in the ways of Congress.

Oastler spent a year in and about the House, accumulating facts that he says will be of great assistance to him if elected.

The candidate was author of a bill introduced into the upper house by Senator Shortridge to increase the pensions of totally disabled war veterans from $100 to $150 a month, and, in 1913, he was instrumental in having passed a bill increasing the pension of Civil War veterans from $72 to $100 monthly.

Not more than two blind congressmen have preceded him in the office he covets.

George Washington's Diary.

A year after his marriage Washington began a formal diary, which he continued until June 19, 1775, the time of his appointment to command the army of the Revolution. He called it his "Diary," and later "Where, and how my time is Spent." In it he entered the happenings of the day, his agricultural and other experiments, a record of his guests, and also a detailed account of the weather. Weather seemed to be a hobby with him, and his attention to it in his diary was most particular.

Cracks in the Wall.

To remedy unsightly cracks in a wall place in a saucepan one pound of flour and rub in a little cold water until free from lumps. Add three quarts of boiling water, place on the stove, bring to a boil and stir in a tablespoonful of alum. Cut a quantity of newspaper into fine bits and stir it into this paste until it is about as thick as putty. Boil and stir until smooth. Fill the cracks with this with help of a putty knife or a broken pointed case knife. Crowd it into the crack as far as possible, and finish it off level and smooth.

at the club house, had a most enjoyable time. The affair was given in the interest of the house-furnishing committee of the club, the chairman of which, Mrs. E. C. Newton, Mrs. W. H. Ingraham and Mrs. J. Milton Stimbinger, acted as hostesses.

For the highest scores in bridge, prizes were awarded to Mrs. W. J. Lawless and Mrs. E. W. Camp, Mrs. Palmer Rhodes and Mr. W. J. Lawless receiving consolation prizes. In five-hundred Mrs. J. H. Parsons and Mr. Swisher won first prizes, consolation prizes going to Mrs. Helen Hill and Mr. Roland Adams. The serving of refreshments and a pleasant social hour terminated a most delightful evening.

Old Styles of Hairdressing.

Roughly speaking, through the Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth centuries the hair parted in the middle hung in flowing tresses, like a veil over the shoulders and back. Some flogger had to be worn to keep it in place. Both men and women wore crowns or "chapels." Crowns in those days didn't belong only to kings and princes. Anyone could wear them. In Venice, in 1500, the hair was merely combed out, braided and gathered in a net. But what a net! It was worth a king's ransom—or nearly. Petrarch's Laura had "golden hair twisted into a blond braid."

Effect of Color.

If a color is to be introduced into a room by means of colored shades or lamps, the color scheme of the room must be considered. Lighting effects should not be in pure colors. Tints of rose or buff add something pleasing to the complexion while red, orange or bright yellow do away with the flesh tints of the face.

miser or spendthrift?

Miser or spendthrift—your ice box is what you make it.

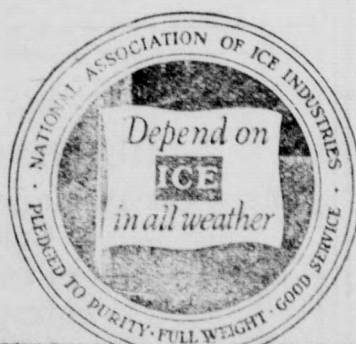

Leave its doors open or only partly closed—let your ice supply dwindle or run entirely out, and it is spendthrift. Foods will spoil quickly; an unnecessarily large amount of ice is required to maintain the proper temperature.

But—your ice box becomes almost miserly in the way it guards your food bills, if you use even ordinary care.

It actually saves you money in the expensive foods it saves from spoiling. Besides, it is your best guarantee of health. Foods that are left in its cold, even temperature are practically free from the dangerous germ growths—causes of illness—that come with a warm temperature.

Use ice every day—the few cents it costs, is more than made up, if you are careful, in the expensive foods it keeps fresh and pure.

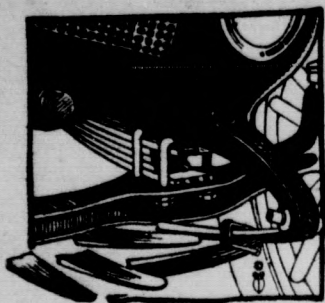

Be sure you get distilled water ice. It is the purest ice made, purer than the water you drink. Yet, it costs you no more than ordinary ice.

CIRCLED WORLD ON BET

In order to win a bet of $10,000, Frans E. Wettler left New York January 15, 1914, with one cent in his pocket, for a trip round the world, and arrived again in New York March 3 of this year. Mr. Wettler is mighty glad to be back again from the long trip that took him through Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and finally through the United States. The bet was made him by a millionaire who declared that it was impossible to make such a trip without money. The photograph shows Wettler at the White House, where he went to tell the President of his world tour.

Rattan Furniture.

Many people imagine that rattan and willow furniture are the same. Rattan, however, is the Chinese importation, brought direct from Singapore, and is susceptible of bending double without even cracking. It possesses, besides, great firmness and strength. Rattan is therefore used for such articles as baskets and lighter ornamental furniture. Each wood has its use, the rattan being better adapted for working up into intricate designs, so eagerly sought in modern artistic furniture.

Ice Man Has New Message

Ice Industry Undertakes Campaign to Prove Ice is Daily Necessity

The ice industry for the first time in its history is now engaged in making certain public pledges, and in demanding its right to public good will.

This is the message emanating from the offices of the ice manufacturers and distributors, the message that is to be given emphasis by drivers of community ice wagons, and supplemented by means of a campaign to be carried on through the newspapers generally.

The movement has become general throughout the country, and the dealers of all California are participating heartily.

Educational Work

This activity, according to the ice man, has for its object the correction of misunderstandings on the part of the public, the enlightenment of the housekeeper in the matter of food preservation, preparation and service and the elimination of wastes that are represented in dollars.

Incidentally, it is suggested there is involved the solution of health problems, the bit of ice each day during all seasons of the year being presented as the ounce of prevention that is of more value than the pound cure.

For the purposes of this campaign, the ice men are pointing out—

That in the practices of former years, with the recurrence of spring-time, the thought of the housewife reverted to ice.

That the preservation of food supplies, the cooling, refreshing drink for the family table, were often merely seasonal concerns.

All-Year Necessity

Today, however, in striving to please and to intelligently safeguard the health of her home circle, the home-keeper has come to regard ice, not as a warm-weather luxury, but as a very material every-day necessity.

She figures, according to the records of the ice dealers:—

That a reasonable "year 'round" ice account is in the nature of a real financial saving.

That food losses are financial losses, and may be prevented by the daily insignificant expenditure for a bit of ice.

That the regularly filled ice chest prevents the loss sustained in the frequent re-chilling of the ice box.

Throughout the country, in populous centers, it has become the regular order to maintain health centers and health nurses for the instruction of mothers in the homes, and for the training of children in the public schools.

Funds requisite for this work have been provided cheerfully, and the public health nurse has become an institution.

Educational Work

Now, under the new order, it is pointed out, the ice man enters the lists with his accumulation of facts, taking his place among those interested in community welfare.

So, with the advances made along other lines, it has become the proper thing to make use of advertising space in the newspapers of the state and country generally in pointing out the personal obligation in the matter of health preservation.

In this campaign of education, during succeeding months, the varying uses to be made of ice are to be outlined, recipes for tempting iced dishes are to be furnished, and every available bit of information relative to home benefits and health safeguards made public.

Under the direction of the managements of ice distributors, the driver of the ice wagon, who makes regular calls at the kitchen door, is to be so instructed and interested as to make him a messenger of health and cheer for every home he visits.

Have Wrong Viewpoint.

Men of the world hold that it is impossible to do a benevolent action, except from an interested motive; for the sake of admiration, if for no grosser and more tangible gain. Doubtless they are also convinced, that, when the sun is showering light from the sky, he is only standing there to be stared at.—Anon.

Here Is a Fine Harbor for Sale

The British ministry of transport is looking for a purchaser of the harbor of Ramsgate. This semi-developed harbor is not needed by the ministry for governmental shipping, and as a result has been put on the market. The Ramsgate corporation, representing the township, has the matter under consideration but probably will be unable to undertake the purchase because of the immense financial investment necessary for further developments. The photograph shows Ramsgate harbor and part of the town.

History of Road Building.

It is said that the Carthaginians were the first people to use a system of road paving, but the Romans were the most famous road-makers. The name of John Macadam will always be associated with the roads because he invented a form of road now known as "tar-macadam." Wood-paving was first used in Russia and introduced to Britain in 1836.

The Bishop's Error.

The bishop was very tired. There were an unprecedented number of candidates for confirmation, and the church grew hotter and hotter. At last, when he was nearing the end of his labors, a baldheaded man knelt down in front of him. The bishop, suppressing a yawn, put both his hands on the shining head and muttered, "I declare this stone to be well and truly laid."

ELECTRICAL INDUSTRY WORKERS TO GATHER

The Pacific Coast Electrical Association's sixth annual convention will be held at the Ambassador Hotel, May 31 to June 2, when 500 delegates will gather from California, Arizona, and Nevada to discuss the problems of the industry which in this state employs some 21,000 people, pays $5,000,000 in taxes and represents an investment of over $500,000,000.

The program includes addresses by Howard F. Beebe, president of the Investment Bankers Association of America, M. H. Aylesworth, executive manager of the National Electric Light Association, Robert Sibley, editor of the Journal of Electricity, Mayor George D. Cryer of Los Angeles, John D. Fredericks, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and others.

A ball and banquet, radio demonstrations, first view movies, vaudeville, and sports will furnish diversion from industrial conferences and technical discussions. "Catalina Day" will be celebrated Saturday, June 3, by an outing to the island resort.

Just Try!

They say a woman can't keep a secret, but did you ever try asking them their age after they've passed twenty-seven.—Chicago American.

Variety in the Diet.

Today dieticians tell us that variety is as important in our diet as is food quality, and, fortunately, this can easily be supplied in spite of the higher food prices today. Variety in food is not a luxury, as it once was, thanks to our national food purveyors. Think of the great opportunities that scientific canning offers to the home manager—of the ready-to-serve meat products, of sea foods distributed to every part of the country, and tropical fruits and vegetables brought to us when the snow flies.

Peculiar Rock Formation.

All of the mountains of Montenegro, Bosnia, the Herzegovina and the Dalmatian coast are made of a spongy limestone rock through which water seeps readily. Sewers are unnecessary, for if one digs down for fifteen feet in any part of the country one finds a natural opening, and anything thrown into that opening is immediately carried away. That is why no navigable streams have ever cut through Dalmatia's mountain wall. The water soaks through and doesn't need to cut.—Saturday Evening Post.

Didn't Know His Good Fortune.

"Mister," began the seedy-looking man, "I haven't got no home and—" "No taxes to pay," interrupted the man addressed; "no coal bills; no worry lest the landlord raise your rent. Permit me to congratulate you." "I have no job and—" "Lucky chap! No danger of getting fired." "But I'm serious, mister. I have no money and—" "No temptation to spend it foolishly on able-bodied beggars. Why, you're the very child of fortune. Good day!"—Boston Transcript.

Disintegrating, As It Were.

One day while on the street I met one of the most prominent and dignified business men of our town. As he passed me he raised his hat and in doing so he knocked his cigar from his mouth. Trying to catch the cigar, he knocked his hat off. Also trying to keep that from falling, his nose-glasses slipped from his nose, fell to the walk and broke. Gathering up his scattered belongings, he remarked that it looked as if he were coming to pieces.—Exchange.

Keep a Historical Scrapbook.

Start a historical scrapbook for your boy. Put in it pictures of important public characters and items of unusual interest. When the child is old enough let him do the pasting. If he is encouraged he will complete the work when he is grown, and will have a book of much interest and information.

Varieties Of John Smith.

In Latin John Smith became Johannes Smithus; in Italian he is known as Giovanni Smithi; in French he becomes Jean Smeet; the Russians call him Jonloff Smittonski; the Poles know him as Ivan Smitlowski; the Welsh as Jhon Schmid; the Hollanders as Hans Schmidt; the Greeks as Ion Smitkon; and the Spaniards as Juan Smithus, while in Turkey he is disguised as Yoe Seef.

TIME TO REMOVE WEEDS FROM LAND

Approach of the dry season and the accompanying fire hazard, brings to mind the city ordinance requiring the removal of weeds and grass from all lots and parkways. Many property owners seem to be unaware that they are responsible for the condition of parkings adjoining their lots, but Marshal Udell insists they will be held responsible for this work if they leave it for the city to do.

Fire permits are necessary for the burning off of lots in any part of town. Furthermore, bonfires must not be lighted north of Grand View avenue without a permit from the marshal. If property owners will begin early and remove the weeds and dry growth voluntarily it will not only improve the appearance of the town greatly but will relieve the marshal's department of a lot of work and worry.

Milk Products.

There are no substitutes for milk and its products. Milk, butter, cheese and ice cream are protective foods, indispensable to growth and health, and essential in the perpetuation of the human race. If you use them freely, you will avoid many physical ailments and escape disease resulting therefrom.

Seeing With the Hands.

The inherent sense most people have of "feeling" someone in their presence in a carefully darkened room is to be nursed carefully and developed. "A totally blind man in a pitch-dark room was told to hold his hands palm upwards. Then a powerful infrared light was turned on them. The blind man saw the light with his fingers.

What She Wanted.

Last Saturday we were eating lunch and Madeline had just finished eating a ham sandwich. In asking for another she turned to her mother and said: "Mamma, I want some more meat, but don't wrap it up."—Chicago Tribune.

Progress.

Progress in human history has been traced by the destruction of barriers. While science has found a way to span the seas and bridge the continents philosophy has made planes of thought on which men of every race may meet together in harmony of faith and purpose.—Walter S. Young.

Had to Be Wise.

"Solomon," says Uncle Eben, "was a wise man. He had to be in order to have so many domestic complications and keep out'n de divorce court."

Daily Thought.

He is no wise man that will quit a certainty for an uncertainty.—Johnson.

COP RAISES CHICKENS

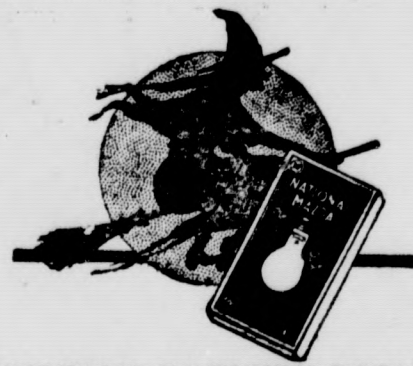

H. H. Hartman is one of Washington's "finest," who daily guides to safety the chickens and flappers on F street. The chickens under his arms, however, are another kind, being prize-winning purebred Plymouth Rock poultry raised by him as a side line in his few spare hours at his home. Hartman says "This is the only kind of chicken you can fool with in safety."

New Invention for Piano.

A new piano with two keyboards, one an octave above the other, has been invented by Emanuel Moor of England. The keys on the double board are close enough for the fingers of one hand to play notes on both simultaneously.
